PORTRAIT OF JOHN C. COLT.

Trial of John C. Colt, for the alledged Murder of Mr. Adams, the Printer.

It being known about town that the trial of John C. Colt, the teacher of book-keeping, was to be called on yesterday morning, at half past 10 o'clock, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, before Judge Kent, long before that kour every avenue to the Court room was crowded with persons of all classes and ages, eager to obtain admittance.

Colt was taken into the room privately at quite an early hour, in the custody of A. M. C. Smith, and placed in the corner of the room, on the left hand side of the Judge's seat. The doors were then opened, and the large space allotted for the spectators was filled in three or four minutes, so great was the anxiety to see and hear this most extraordinary trial. The officers in attendance preserved most admirable order; they kept the place within the bar entirely clear from ever one, except the reporters of the daily papers, the witnesses, and members of the bar. The doors were then closed, and hundreds waited and clamored outside, unable to obtain admittance. Whilst in the Park, there were also hundreds waiting to catch a sight of Colt or Mrs. Adams. or any of the witnesses. In fact there has not been such an universal and terrible excitement in this city since the trial of Robinson.

Colt himself looked more collected, calm, and in better health than we have seen him enjoy since his arrest. He sat with his back to the audience, conversing freely with his brother, and at intervals reading the "Herald." Officer Smith, at one time approached him, and said, "Have you seen the Sun, Mr. Colt?" He replied very calmly and cheerfully, "No, I have not, but I should like to." Upon which, Smith handed him that paper. His brether seemed a good deal affected, but the only evidence of mental agony about Colt, was seen in a restless ralling of the eye, and a convulsive twitching of the Precisely at half-past ten o'clock, Judge Kent en tered the room and took his seat. The Circuit Court was then opened. Before this Dudley Selden Mr. Emmett, and John A. Morrill were in attendance as Colt's Counsel; and Mr. James Smith as associate of the District Attorney, Mr. Whiting.

CLERK-Only nineteen jurors answer, sir. JUDGE KENT.—Nineteen jurors only answer their names, Mr. Attorney. SELDEN.—Do you demand a tales? WHITING—Yes, sir.

WHITING—Yes, SIF.

Judge Kent—The statute says, that when 24 jurors do not answer to their names, the Court shall direct the Sheriff to summon a sufficient number from the city and county; and, considering the circumstances of this case, which render it thely that it will be difficult to form a jury, the Court therefore will order the Sheriff.

to found on that, sir?

SELDEN—No motion, your Honor. But does the record exhibit that fact?

Judge Kenn—Most unquestionably it does; and the Court, in considering the circumstances of this case, and the difficulty in getting a jury, do order the Sheriff to summon 300 persons from the county at large to be in attendance here at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning.

SELDEN—Will that be time enough?

Judge Kenn—In the case of Exra White, the Sheriff was directed to summon 200 witnesses the next day, but there was some difficulty in getting them together. It is thought that Wednesday will allow sufficient time.

SAGACITY AND FIDELITY OF A Dog.—The jew-ellery store of Messrs. Tanner & Cooley, of Utica, was saved (says the Utica Day News) from the flames on Monday night, by a dog who lay in the room with two young men. The inmates heard the dog barking furiously, but unconscious of the cause, did not move until he sprang upon their bed, and aroused them by putting his paws upon their breast. They rose just as the flames were bursting through the ceiling, and in time to arrest the proress of the destroying element.

City Intelligence. THE RING.-The contemplated ring combat beween YANKEE SULLIVAN and TROMAS SECOR, will take place on Saturday next. This match has created more interest among the fancy than any that has ver been pitched in this country. The stakes between them, though only $300 a side, is backed by upwards of $10,000 in side betts. Sulli van carries the odds in his favor at present, although Secor is readily backed at $50 to $100. The latter is about 35 pounds better by weight than Sullivan and bears himself in fine order. Sullivan has great activity, endurance and science, while Secor has great strength, weight and skill; therefore, a better match could not be made up. Sullivan is training at Williamsburgh, L. I., and Secor at East Chester The former weighed 158 pounds on Saturday, the latter 194. They are both young men, Secor 26 Sullivan 25, and are better matched, with the excep tion of weight, than any two that have come to gether for years. The meeting will not take place in this State, and two steamboats have already been chartered to convey the friends of each party to the place selected to decide who is the best man. CHARGE OF GRAND LARCENY .- Dr. Samuel Heigh of No. 418 Broadway, appeared before the Lower Police yesterday morning, and entered a complaint against an Irish woman who has been residing with him for the last year, named Sarah Harris, for stealing $195, on Sunday evening. The particulars were that this woman who has been residing with him as a domestic, has also been used for other purposes, and now has in her possession a child five weeks old, the fruits of such illicit intercourse. On Sunday night the Doctor had a slight quarrel with her and she in revenge opened one of his sideboard drawers. she in revenge opened one of his sideboard drawers, took the above amount, and fled to the adjoining house, occupied by John B. Liddle. The Doctor caused Mr. Liddle to be arrested for receiving the money, but finding that he was liable to false imprisonment, consented to his discharge. Upon searching Mr. Liddle's premises the money was found behind the street door, tied up in a little bag where it had been placed by the woman that took it. Upon the appearance of the mother of the child in the Police Office vesterday morning the Doctor's heart relented, and after stating that he intended to take care of the child, although he should not the mother, he concluded not to prosecute the case if he could get the money

After returning and departing from the house, he discovered that a bar of gold valued at $80, a gold watch worth $42,50 and three gold rings valued at $1 each, had been stolen from one of the pockets of the coat. Suspicion immediately settled upon a German servant girl named Margaretta Stinger, who resided in the family; and officer, Stokely being sent for, the stolen property was found stowed away in her trunk. When it was proposed to search her trunk she bounced upon it, and declared herself hostile to any entrance into her private loggage. Election of Mayors in Pittsburgh and Allegheny Cities - Abolition doctrines-Mormanism New Light-Forward's Treasury Report-New Law Judge for Pittsburgh-Court-house troubles-Appointments by the Mayor. J. G. BENNETT, Esq. :-

Your correspondent in this vicinity, anxious to sustain the deservedly high character of your fournal for general information ion subjects of a public nature, hastens to announce the result of yesterday's election in Pittsburgh and Allegheny cities, for the office of Municiple Chief Magistrates. The anti-masons and whigs, by union, have triumphed in carrying their candidate, Alexander Hay. The citizen ticket, with Mr. Shina's name, had a respectable vote. The loco-foco Catholic's who had a candidate in the field named P. McKenna, came out, to use an elegant expression, at the "little end of the horn."

In Allegheny city, W. B. Foster, a war federalist and contractor, but a recently "dyed in the wool" democrat, has succeeded; yet some desirous for the election of another, say the vote is a tie.

A refractory babbler, discarded from the Methodist connection, is holding forth in Pittsburgh, as a lecturer upon Abolition. I have listened to one of his harrangues by request; and little did I think, until that occasion, there was so much patient endurance in my gizzard. This fellow is grossly ignorant, and therefore wicked in language. He recommended pretection and comfort to run way slaves; and said every bondservant ought to make the effort to free himself; but whether by means of his legs or the Bowie-knife, no hearer could determine. The name of the incendiary is Smith. Akin to this fanatic, is a prophet, or sen of a prophet, from the tribe of Morman, who is doing a "pretty good business" in gulling the simples around. He has annour ced himself as one of the favored few, who, with Joe Smith, Morman, who is doing a "pretty good business" in gulling the simples around. He has announced himself as one of the favored few, who, with Joe Smith, saw the Angel of the Lord, and was rebuked by a voice from Heaven, for doubting the fact that bulltoads were not ample and authentic records of the genaineses of the Morman bible. This herald of modern Jewish and Christian faith, is satisfied, that Major Noah has no legal or egitable claim upon Hebrew blood. The abortive Long Island speculation only preves that false Jews and false prophets will continue to annoy the chosen few under the banner of the immortal Joe Smith.

Connected with this religious information, I am constrained from pious motives to state that Mr. Van Amring, a lawyer of no mean repute in these parts, has published a religious pamphlet, attempting to reason, under peculiar rules of logic, that man is physiologically, anatomically and hyperbolically composed of body, soul, spirit and gamption. Expectation runs high as to the future course of this great, glorious and pious man. If he remain at the bar, the world and the devil may avercome the soul, body and spirit—and then how awful the responsibility of the New Jerusalamite!

The Hon. Harman Denny has returned from Washington city, and gives his opinion freely of the shameful injustice done to Mr. Secretary Forward, by a portion of the federal press, in attributing his incomparable report to Mr. Webster. In every respect, his mind is neither less strong not less informed than that of Mr. Webster. Mr. Forward, from the bar to the cabinet, will prove himself equal to any man in the Union; and this is the opinion of the best read lawyers in Penns, Ivania.

"The devil among the lawyers' is a comedy now in rehearsal about the new court house.—For about three weeks last past, the Court of Oyer and Terminer has been engaged trying about as many cases as Judge Kent would rattle through in three days; and as public business thus suffers, there is a cry for another law Judge to "help," as Mrs. Trollope ca

The new Mayor of Pittsburgh is said to have selected his cubinet. B. Hubley, Esq., (father-in-law) to be de facto mayor, captain of the watch, high constable, and weighmaster of the markets. This is christain—a man mindful of his own friends.

The Emmit hotel is in Allegheny City, as I have just learned; and in justice to the gentlemanly and arbane proprietor, Mr. Sweny, I must say better fare, more comfortable and cleanly apartments cannot be found out of the City of New York.

WORMS CAUSE DEATH.
READ WHAT SHERMAN'S WORM LOZEN.ES
have done:
Mr. John R. Wood, 37 Third street, gave his child some of them, and they brought away the worms by thousands. Mr.
Wood was astonished at the quantity.
Dr. G. Hunter, 108 Sixth avenue, knows a child that was cured of fits by them when the physicians could give no rehef.
Mr. Jefferson B. Nones, 46 Chatham st., has used them in his family with the greatest benefit. He knew a case where a little girl nice years old had been given up as incurable by three physicians. The mother heard of Sherman's Worm Lozenges, and was induced to try them; and, to her unspeakable joy, three
